LUKE LIABLE

“Living on a working farm, nothing says spring more to me than tending to my gardens. This season, I’ll clear out the old before prepping, plowing and planting anything new. I’ll seed a six-acre sunflower field, then plant vegetables, herbs, annuals and perennial flower gardens. I love that I will reap the benefits of my gardens throughout the year.”— Caroline Brackett, Owner and Principal Designer, Caroline Brackett Studio of Design, Greenville, South Carolina
