CAROLINE Brackett

Based in Charlotte and Greenville, South Carolina, Caroline Brackett of Caroline Brackett Studio of Design describes the driving force behind her work.

“The inspiration for my work comes from many places. Of them all, however, the client is always the biggest source of inspiration for any project. Collaboration between designer and client reigns supreme, and the direction a home takes is in correlation to their likes, tastes, styles, treasures, and life experiences. Travels, art, wardrobes, collections, etcetera – they all play a significant role in the curation of a space reflecting my clients’ individual story. The ideal design relationship is one where we inspire, educate, and stretch each other. Inspiration is all around us, and nothing is more inspiring than a life well lived.”
